SOME CHANGE IN PASSENGER RUNS ON MONONGAHELA DIVISION

Providing for Greater Movement of Freight in Upper Valley

NEW TERMINAL POINTS NAMED

Beginning tomorrow the southern terminal of the Southwest Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad will be Uniontown. Travelers to points between Uniontown and Fairchance, who have been using the Pennsylvania Railroad passenger trains through to destination will in the future be compelled to travel by trolley from Uniontown on south to Fairchance.

The Pennsylvania Railroad also puts into effect tomorrow a new passenger train schedule on the Monongahela Division. The southern terminal of this road in the future will be West Brownsville instead of Brownsville. Passengers for the latter place will have to walk across the river bridge to reach their destination, or take the Lake Erie, which runs directly into Brownsville. There will be four passenger trains daily in each direction between West Brownsville and Pittsburgh.

The Pennsylvania Railroad passenger service between Pittsburgh and Uniontown via the Monongahela Division will be reduced to one train each way daily.

The reduction of passenger train service in the upper Monongahela river coal country is to enable the railroads in that section to handle more coal and coke and other freight. Most of the towns affected by this restriction are reached by interurban trolley lines and the withdrawal of passenger trains will work no hardship on the traveling public.

According to the new schedule there will be no reduction in the number of trains on the lower end of the Division. The 7:17 train, south bound, which now goes through to Uniontown, stops at West Brownsville, and will return to Pittsburgh from that point, arriving at Charleroi at 9:09 a. m. The 8:39 train in the evening will arrive at 9:23. But one train each way to and from Uniontown, arriving at Charleroi at 12:47 north bound and returning in the evening at 6:20. The Fairmont train will run through to Brownsville. Practically no change in the Sunday trains.

New Fuel Orders Apply to Charleroi

Some confusion existed this morning among the merchants of Charleroi with reference to the new order issued by Fuel Administrator Kuhn on Friday. In order to clear up the situation locally, the Mail telephoned the office of Mr. Kuhn to get direct information and the reply received stated that the same rules which apply in Pittsburgh with reference to the closing of stores and the use of power apply in Charleroi.

In other words, all business places, large and small, are directed to keep their stores and offices closed until 10 a. m. except those particularly exempted in the order. These exempted include drug stores for the sale of drug supplies; wholesale and retail groceries, restaurants, markets, hotels.

Further amplifying the order Mr. Kuhn has stated that to further make clear the intent of the administration rulings covering the use of artificial light and power, special attention is called to the following:

1. All barber shops are permitted to open at their regular time until further notice.
2. Hotels, restaurants, barber shops, drug stores and all other stores are requested to make no sales of cigars or tobacco between 7:30 and 10 a. m. this being necessary to prevent discrimination.
3. All stores, bars or other places dispensing liquor are requested to remain closed between the hours of 7:30 and 10 a. m.
4. All stores, offices or other users of artificial light or power affected by this order are requested to keep their places of business closed between the hours of 7:30 and 10 a. m.
5. Newsstands are permitted to remain open for the distribution of newspapers and periodicals.

Honor Roll of the Red Cross Workers

OPPORTUNITY TO JOIN THE NAVY

The long looked for opportunity to join the Navy has arrived. Lieutenant Commander Newton Mansfield mobilization inspector of the Eastern Division has just arrived from Washington with full information concerning the new form of procedure.

The Navy has been allotted a quota of fifteen thousand men a month; six thousand five hundred of which will be individually inducted that is, those men who are experts in certain trades of which the Navy is in urgent need may apply at the Navy Information Bureau and if found technically and physically fit will be inducted through their local board. The remaining 8,500 men will be inducted through the regular run of the draft.

A provision has also been made through which young men who are pursuing a technical course in colleges may enroll in the Naval Section of the Student Army Training Corps. Naval Officers will be immediately sent to all colleges for the purpose of examining an enrolling all applicants. This work must be completed by October First, or as soon thereafter as possible. These men after being enrolled as Apprentice Seaman will don the uniform of the U. S. Navy and will receive a military and educational training along lines prescribed by the Navy Department.

They will receive $32.60 a month and allowance for subsistence and tuition not to exceed $2.00 a day, but such allowance will conform to the amount now specified by contract between the Army and the Institute concerned. Navy Information Bureaus composed of civilians have been formed in many cities by Lieutenant Commander Newton Mansfield, and many others are in the process of formation. The object of these committees is to disseminate information and generally acquaint applicants with the activities and possibilities of the Navy.

(Signed) Newton Mansfield, Mobilization Inspector, Eastern Division.

HAS BEEN RAISED 5 TIMES

During the latter part of March, 1917 a serious break occurred in the old wooden dam at Lock No. 4. So serious was the break that the water in the fourth pool was drawn off until it reached the lowest stage in the memory of the oldest inhabitant and as a consequence coal shipments from the upper portions of the river were practically at a standstill, except for what little coal was shipped by the Vesta Coal company. This they were enabled to do by loading their barges very light, that they might pass over the shallow places in the upper pools.

No time or expense was spared by the government officials in getting the break partly closed and the work of building temporary cribs was well under way when a sudden rise in the river swept the work all out and it was necessary to begin reconstruction all over again. Several conferences were held by government officials as to ways and means to shut off the torrents of water rushing through the break day and night, until it was finally decided to leave the matter with Capt. Geo. S. Nutt, superintendent of repairs. All necessary labor and material was provided and in a short time specially devised and constructed water cribs were dropped into place and the water shut off. Continued high water for the greater part of the year, coupled with a shortage of labor, made the completion of the work a slow proposition. However, sufficient construction in the shape of temporary cribs and steel piling were placed so as to withstand the hard break-up of the heavy ice of last winter.

The early part of the present week saw the finishing strokes put on what is virtually a new dam of the wooden type and it is rated as the best of its kind on the river.

This dam was built about 1844 by the old Monongahela Navigation company and has been raised from time to time to meet the growing industry of the fourth pool probably five times in all. The present dam will give one foot more water in the pool than ever before and is of uniform proportion its entire length of six hundred feet and is calculated to withstand the high water and heavy ice for many winters to come.

Let's Pull Together

Are we, as a community, pulling together? Or are we pulling in opposite directions? Organization is the great community need of the day. Without organization men and women are apt to sink below the level of mules. Even mules, in time of danger or panic, have been known to co-operate. They sometimes kick together. If it were given to mules to think, they would wonder at the ways of men. That men and women, living and working in the same community, should refuse to co-operate, is one of the riddles of civilization. The only benefits worth having are the benefits we can share with our neighbors. Individual benefit counts for little. It is the co-operative effort that brings everlasting good. Good roads, factories, better schools, good markets can only be secured when all pull together. Every man, woman and child in this community should give one hour each day to community work. But, don't wait for someone else to start it. There is work for you to do. Begin with yourself.

THE DISHONOR ROLL

One instinctively turns first to the Honor Roll when he opens his newspaper these days. He does it without thinking, without hesitation.

For his interest is first and foremost in the lives of his friends "over there," the men who are fighting his fight and that of humanity at large.

Daily that roll has been slowly increasing in length. The Yanks have been showing the world at large and the Germans in particular that they still retain the fighting punch that planted Liberty firmly upon her feet in America more than a century ago. Moreover that they are as loyal to Liberty today as were their gallant ancestors. But they are paying a terrific price.

And most of us glory in their spirit, their courage, their vim and dash.

But none of us find comfort in that glowing casualty list.

Most of us would do anything in our power to wipe it out.

Yet there are many who seemingly do not care; who are indifferent to the terrible toll the carnage is taking; who still regard the struggle as something which does not concern them.

And persistently fail to prove their loyalty to their country and its ideals. They are of the dishonor roll.

Some of them are traitors, purely and simply; some are active enemies, striking in the dark whenever and wherever they may; some, strange as it may seem, do not yet appreciate the situation, and some are callously indifferent.

But alike they are all upon this ignoble list; a list which should be scorned by all red blooded Americans, and is.

None of us can afford to be listed with them. All of us must retain our self-respect and that of our fellow-men.

And the only way, right now, is to buy a Liberty Bond.

Get off that list. Mr. Non-Bond-buyer auditing claims for sheep damages.

Another provision of the late act, which does not seem to be familiar, is that one person now comprises the board of auditors that passes on the damage claims. Heretofore the auditors consisted of one, two or three persons and a justice of the peace. There are some claims now before the commissioners, with costs for more than one person, but only one person can be paid. The commissioners, under the law, can only pay one person for auditing claims for sheep damages.

INFLUENZA UPSETS

MILITARY ROUTINE

Besides upsetting the usual military routine, the epidemic of Spanish Influenza has had no inconsiderable effect on the activities of the various war service workers in the camps on Long Island. Camp Upton has been completely quarantined so far as concentration of the men at the huts and social service buildings is concerned, and Camp Mills is under almost the same restrictions now, as well as the smaller military centers on the Island. Shutting the men out of the Knights of Columbus, Y. M. C. A. and other similar buildings, however, has not forced idleness upon the workers of these organizations. On the contrary it has impelled them to draw upon their ingenuity and resourcefulness, in their desire to continue giving service, and as a result they are busier than ever.

With most of the soldiers confined to their "company streets" the workers have had to "bring the Y. M. C. A. to them," or the K. of C., or whatever organization they happened to serve. Big boxes of writing paper, envelopes, stamps, eating chocolate, cigarettes, soap, candles, tooth paste and the sundry odds and ends wanted by soldiers are being carried around from the "huts" to the individual units, where the soldiers make quick work of it.

Boxing bouts and baseball games are taboo for the time being, but the men requiring a tonic of excitement are not obliged to forego it. The K. of C. and "Y" men are carrying the athletics into the company streets, stirring up games like "duck on the rock," "stray tag" and volley ball. Still others are displaying their versatility in the role of song leaders.

The American Library Association has received permission to keep the camp libraries open so the men may obtain books, but they must carry them to their individual tents to read, not being allowed to remain in the building any length of time. At the Y. M. C. A. Hostess Houses there is little of the usual congregating, the establishments being used only as a meeting place for the men and their visitors, who while conversing must go outdoors, where the danger of spreading the disease is less.

In brief, the emergency has changed the entire "home life" of the camps but it is proving a valuable lesson to the war service workers in developing their resourcefulness and ability to adapt themselves to changed conditions which will stand them in good stead later on, especially in the cases of those who eventually go overseas to serve with the American Expeditionary Forces.

Your Call to The Colors!

This is your call to enlist. Not in the Army or Navy, perhaps, but to enlist your dollars to help your country in this war. Your call is to Buy a Liberty Bond

For $50, $100, $500, $1,000

or more, according to your ability.

If you haven't the money right now to pay for a Bond, we will accept $5.00 down and the balance in payments of $2.00 weekly and deliver the Bond to you when the last payment is made.

These Bonds are the best investment in the whole world and pay interest at 4 1-4 per cent per annum half yearly. This is a test for your patriotism—come in and buy a Liberty Bond today.
